Jasper King and Burns Fitzpatrick should be yoked up together and driven over into Indiana, where assassins and their sympathizers are respected and protected

It seems impossible to hang an assassin in Kentucky. The actual perpetrators of this most diabolical of all crimes are usually tools in the hands of persons having power and backing enough to bring about a miscarriage of justice at every trial.

Jett and White Convicted.

Jett and White, the assassins of J. B. Marcum, was sentenced to life imprisonment by the jury at Cynthiana. Eleven jurors favored the death penalty, but Jasper King stood out against it so positively that the others finally agreed to life imprisonment. King is charged with trying to influence other members of the jury before the evidence was all in and when they were under strict orders to May Wooten end Mrs. Ella Nunley atnot discuss the case. The presecuting attorney has brought the matter to the attention of the grand jury, and King may go along with Jett and White to the penitentiary. Such condemnation as he is receiving from the public and press seldem falls to the lot of a juror. Judge Lafferty, his relative, who was an attorney for the defense, devoted his entire speech t) an argument against the raw prescriping capital punishresent.
